

International Integrative Medicine Conference 2011

An integrative Approach to Health –
New Quality to Health Care!

INTEGRATIVE MEDICINE CONFERENCE 2011

May 14-15, 2011 in Tallinn, Estonia
Radisson Blu Hotel Olümpia Conference Centre

Different fields of medicine develop continuously. The field of health care has started to regard most of the diseases and health in general, as a bio-psycho-social phenomenon. Underlying such school of thought is the admittance that psychological and social factors are the ones that influence human health the most.

The aim of the Integrative Medicine Conference is to offer the doctors, therapists, health coaches and anyone interested in his/her health the most up-to-date news, scientific proof and understanding of the fields of psychosomatic medicine and psychoneuroimmunology in general.

The first day of the conference, on May 14, is directed to the healthcare professionals and therapists. The open day, on May 15, welcomes everyone interested in their health and wellbeing.

Estonia is tiny, a fairytale like country with a population of just slightly above 1 million. We have broken ourselves apart from the Soviet Union with the Singing Revolution, and our innovation is the Skype. We like creating and bringing to life new things for the World.

Tallinn, the capital of Estonia, is the European cultural capital of 2011. The event carrying the name – Seaside Stories. Find out more: www.visitestonia.com
